It was one of six vessels in the class, which had four holds and a crew of seven to operate the fireboat, including the captain. By the time the Swanning was in commission, the class of fireboats had evolved to where they were capable of carrying only a crew of four to operate the vessel and steam in fire situations. The Swanning was the only one of its type to be equipped with the equipment in place during its commission. The Swanning was the longest of the six vessels, at. It also weighed

Q: Weird Console Output In JavaScript In Chrome I was working on a javascript script in the Google Chrome Console and it started outputting strange stuff: As you can see, it's not a normal output. It was fine until I changed an object's id and now this starts coming up. My script is attached below:

/* Prints the specified number of items in reverse-order. Returns: refresh() */ function refresh(items, n) { console.log(items.slice(n).reverse().join('')); if(n > 0) console.log(`Data: ${items.join(', ')}`) let result = refresh(items, n-1) console.log(`Result: ${result}`) } A: You have a syntax error in your code: You have: return n - 1 You should have: return n This is because you are seeing the following output (notice that n is formatted as a number): Because n = 4, n - 1 = 3, so it is returning 3 instead of 4. Q: Installing Ubuntu 14.04 via network install with bootable DVD I need to install Ubuntu on several computers (one 16-year old motherboard + one laptop). I read that if you are installing Ubuntu via network boot or via bootable DVD 50b96ab0b6
